

Exhibit D: Fiscal Achievement Scorecard

Prepared for: Memorandum to the Village Board of Tuxedo Park Record period: McFadden administration, July 2017–2023, with later authorizations shown for succession context

Executive finding

The documented record supports the conclusion that fiscal restraint and infrastructure planning occurred together. During the McFadden administration, the Village received a 1.7 OSC fiscal-stress score for 2022, S&P raised the general-obligation rating from AA- to AA/Stable in July 2021, and the Village reported in May 2023 that the 2022–23 budget was projected to finish 6.51% under budget and that the 2023–24 property-tax levy would decline 1.7621% without use of unallocated surplus.

Fiscal scorecard

Measure	Documented result	Benchmark	Meaning
First-administration tax restraint	According to Deputy Mayor and Treasurer Christopher Hansen, the Village adopted what he described as its lowest tax increase in the preceding 15 years	Hansen statement, paraphrased by McFadden	Attributed achievement, not an independently recalculated 15-year series
FY2022 OSC fiscal-stress score	1.7	25.0 first designation threshold	No Designation; 23.3 points below the first threshold
General-obligation credit rating	AA/Stable in July 2021	Upgrade from AA-	Independent improvement in credit profile
FY2022–23 projected budget result	6.51% under budget	Adopted budget	Village-reported favorable variance
FY2023–24 property-tax levy	1.7621% reduction	Prior-year levy	Tax restraint at the end of the administration
Use of unallocated surplus in FY2023–24 budget	None reported	Village budget statement	Levy reduction was not reported as funded by unallocated surplus
FY2024 tax-cap position	$3,654,610 levy	$3,920,740 limit	$266,130 below the reported cap
FY2024 constitutional tax-limit use	$3,654,610 levy	$9,061,694 limit	Approximately 40.3% used

Capital authorizations

Program	Maximum authorization	Date and attribution	Financial meaning
Water-system improvements	$4,500,000	March 10, 2025; Citrin Board	Financing ceiling, not proof of issuance or expenditure
Sewer-system improvements	$650,000	March 3, 2025; Citrin Board	Financing ceiling
Pond No. 3 bridge replacement	$250,000	March 3, 2025; Citrin Board	Financing ceiling; separate from dam and sewer work
Total	$5,400,000	Successor Board	Not McFadden-era spending

Capital delivery and cost control

Measure	Documented result	Assessment
Engineer-led capital plan	Nine coordinated project tracks documented in December 2022	Active capital program at transition
Trunk-sewer investigation	Approximately $49,520 invoiced against $91,600 budget	Approximately 46% below budget
SSS rehabilitation	Work in six road areas with EFC grant and financing	Construction and outside funding documented

Measure	Documented result	Assessment
Water-system readiness	Tuxedo Lake design nearing completion; Mountain Road-area field investigation underway	Later water financing continued an existing project pipeline
Surplus-equipment disposal	$8,545 received from 10 of 11 auctioned DPW items by April 2022	Documented asset recovery

Procurement comparison

Measure	2018 audited period	Later corrective record
Professional-service competition	14 of 15 providers; $926,188 paid without solicited competition	Proposal and interview process described; later files contain formal scopes and proposals
Written agreements	Five providers; $169,330 paid without written agreements	Later engineering records contain scopes, fees, amendments, and acceptance terms
Required quotations	11 of 23 tested purchases; $102,543 lacked required quotes	Later sewer records identify original competitive bid prices and quotations for added work
Procurement policy	Professional-service guidance was inadequate	Policy amended in 2019 and renewed in 2022

The historical audit figures and later control examples are not equivalent datasets. This scorecard therefore states procedural improvement and does not claim a zero-dollar post-audit noncompetitive-spending total.

Dedicated Sewer Fund

During Mayor David McFadden's administration, effective June 1, 2022, the Village established a Dedicated Sewer Fund with separate sewer accounting to improve cost accountability. This was an accounting structure, not a construction expenditure.
